

andrew scott lingrell

Profile

I recently earned a BFA in Graphic Design at Georgia State University while financing my education and supporting a family. I have worked to refine my leadership and teamwork qualities through past work experience and production projects. I continue to improve my client communication skills as well as recognizing when a project is finished.

Experience

Graphics Technician

Pub & Print

University of West Georgia

Carrollton, Ga

February 2019 - Current

Job expectations include: preparing files for offset, digital, duplex, and large format printing; designing and printing wall art, banners, and signs; collaborating with the university's communication and marketing design team, other university and private clients as well as Pub & Print's in house departments such as duplicating and offset press areas, to produce professional print and publication work.

Junior Graphic Designer

Georgia State University

Creative Services Office

Atlanta, Ga

February 2018 - December 2018

Job expectations included creating marketing materials, getting proofs approved/ approving proofs for others, and creating hundreds of deliverables in all sizes for print and digital media. In addition to skillfully managing hierarchy, balance, and other design principles, learning how to follow a process and checklist has given me the utmost respect for the requirements of a project management system.

Education

Georgia State University, BFA, Graphic Design

(May 2019) - 3.4 GPA

Skills

Adobe Creative Suite

File management

Process based work style

